Guidance for developing ethical research projects involving children

Date: Thursday 17 May 2012
Registration & coffee: 10:30am
Workshop: 11 to 1pm
Location: CES, 9 Harcourt Street Dublin 2
Cost: €15 members, €40 Non members (includes membership fee)

Places are limited to members so book now at www.childrensresearchnetwork.org

Event Summary

The Department of Children and Youth Affairs (DCYA) recently launched ‘Guidance for developing ethical research projects involving children’. The Guidance considers ethical principles and concepts in research with children and presents a checklist for the design and conduct of research.

In this the third master class of the Children’s Research Network for Ireland and Northern Ireland, participants will have an opportunity to respond to the Guidance and to discuss ethical issues in their work. The workshop will also provide participants with the opportunity to discuss the challenges facing the community and voluntary sector in applying and monitoring ethical standards in their work in the absence of formal/institutional ethics committees.

Key speaker

Dr Anne Cleary - Anne is the chairperson of the Working Group on Ethics in Children’s Research.

Other speakers to be confirmed

Objectives

By the end of the workshop participants will:

- Be familiar with background to the establishment of the Ethics in Children’s Research
- Understand good practice principles for undertaking research with children
- Be aware of the researcher’s responsibilities in using the guidelines

How to book a place

There are a limited number of places available at the master class, so we advise you to apply as soon as possible. Applicants must join or be an existing member of the Children’s Research Network for Ireland and Northern Ireland. To apply for a place please go to www.childrensresearchnetwork.org and complete our online booking and secure payment form.

For further information go to www.childrensresearchnetwork.org or contact Marian O’Dea on +353 1 416 0524.